NIKTEK LLC is continuing the Lunch and Learn Series. We will be demonstrating and answering questions on the Cisco Small Business IP phone system called the UC500 and Microsoft Small Business Server 2008. Both products are designed for productivity, communications, security and remote connectivity. This allows you to be more productive by being available when coworkers or clients need to get in contact with you. Setting up remote telephone extensions, eFax to email, windows mobile and iPhone connectivity to your email, enhanced system security etc. will all be talked about.

Please join us to find out more and to talk to certified system engineer about any questions you have on your telephone or computer networks. Appitizers and drinks will be served, so take a little break on Thursday just before happy hour and learn about these new products and find out how they can help your bottom line.

You must sign up for this event please contact NIKTEK LLC at (203) 874-1273 or at info@niktek.com
